Wishes are Still Happening

Despite the many challenges that 2020 has brought all of us, wishes are still happening! It's your commitment and support that keeps the Make-A-Wish® mission alive—together, we create life-changing wishes for children with critical illnesses. Without our donors, volunteers and community members, none of these wishes would have been possible.

Bella's Princess Paradise

When five-year-old Bella of Augusta, WV, was diagnosed with a brain tumor, she was referred to Make-A-Wish® back in April 2020. Bella had originally wished to go to the Walt Disney World® Resort to meet all of her favorite princesses. But as time went on, Bella decided that she didn't want to wait until it was safe to travel again to experience her wish-come-true. After all she'd been through and would continue to endure, she needed something tangible to look forward to, something to hope for. After some daydreaming, Bella realized that what she really wanted was to feel like a princess – and every princess needs a castle.

When Bella imagined her castle, it was pink with yellow trim, doors and accents, and to her, these colors were the most important part of her soon-to-be castle. As soon as Bella described her wish, her Make-A-Wish volunteers went to work to make Bella's daydream a reality. With the help of a local painter, Bella's princess castle was complete, and in September, her backyard was transformed into a perfectly pink, royal playland. Now cancer-free, Bella's worries are far behind her as she looks ahead to the future with newfound hope and the poise of a princess.

Lilly Hits All the Right Notes

When 17-year-old Lilly of North East, PA, met with her Make-A-Wish volunteers, there was no questioning what she wanted to wish for. Since receiving her cancer diagnosis last spring, her high school's marching band has been a pillar of strength during her toughest times. So, it was only fitting that she used her wish to give back to her fellow classmates—she had wished for brand new instruments for the band. "I didn't want to use the wish for myself; there was nothing I wanted. I was very content; I'm a very lucky girl. So I thought the band needed new instruments," said Lilly.

Caroline's Fur-Ever Friend

For four-year-old Caroline of Carbondale, PA, her wish came on four legs, a wet nose and a constantly wagging tail. Since the very beginning of her wish, Caroline knew that she wanted a fluffy black and white puppy with lots of energy to chase all the worries away. Instead of focusing on treatments for leukemia, she now has a cuddly cavachon to keep her company. And after much thought, she named her little pup, Sprinkles, because everything is better with sprinkles!
